GIMRE'S SHOES - THE OLDEST FAMILY OWNED SHOE STORE WEST OF MINNESOTA!

Sven A. Gimre founded S.A. Gimre Shoemaker in 1892. He made and repaired shoes on Bond Street, located between 11th & 12th Street. Their current Astoria store, located at 239 14th Street has been in that same location since just after the great Astoria Fire of 1922 that destroyed their 2nd store located on the corner of 12th & Marine Drive.

Sven Gimre passed on the family business to his sons Kermit and Anders Gimre. During the 50's Kermit and Anders built the business into a chain of seven stores around the State of Oregon. Eventually all were sold or closed except for the store in Astoria.

Kermit's two sons Jon and Peter accepted ownership of the business several years ago. Kermit stayed active in the business and was President of the corporation up until his death in March of this year.

Gimre's grew in 1985 when they opened a store in downtown Hillsboro. Gimre's newest store is in Seaside which opened in 1990.

Gimre's is the oldest family owned shoe store West of Minnesota.

The entire Gimre's Shoes staff carry on the same fine tradition of quality shoes and service that Sven started 100 years ago, and that tradition continues to keep Gimre's Shoes in business today.

Gimre's is proud to have served five generations of North Coast's shoe needs.

JCPenney

1343 Commercial Street, Downtown Astoria

Mon. - Fri. 9:30 am to 6 pm and Sunday Noon to 5 pm

Many people still remember the days when the Downtown Astoria JCPenney store used a system similar to pneumatic tube for purchases and transactions. This system was like today's drive up window. It incorporated a metal tube connected to a network of guidewires from each clerk's counter to a cashier's cage on the second floor. The floor clerk would write up the purchases, then shoot the customer's money up to a cashier who would receive the money, make and return the change to the customer, all via these pneumatic tubes.

Those days are gone, but the same Downtown JCPenney store exists. Penney's has been a part of Astoria since 1913, and is one of the oldest stores in what is now one of the largest retail chains in America. The company was started by James Cash Penney in 1902 in Kemmerer, Wyoming, and was first named The Golden Rule.

Frank & Judy Van Winkle

Loop-Jacobsen was started in 1932 when Harvey K. Loop bought out Schulz in Schulz-Jacobsen. Schulz-Jacobsen was started about 1919. Harvey K. Loop also purchased Donnerberg Jewelry, owned by Frank Donnerberg, consolidating the two stores into one store, located in the Astor Building. The store was moved to its present location in 1961. Richard and Estel Van Winkle, bought the store on April 1, 1977. Son Frank now runs the business.

The Van Winkles sell and repair jewelry, watches and clocks. They have a selection of batteries for watches & clocks. They carry Black Hills Gold and a large selection of sterling silver jewelry. House calls available for large clocks and clock repairs.

They do custom engraving on metals and plastic for trophies, engrave name tags and inside ring engraving. With every engravable purchase, engraving is free.

Frank designs jewelry to your special needs. He also makes pendants, rings, bracelets and earrings for the store. Frank checks your rings to make sure all the prongs are secure and then will clean your ring. Judy restrings and knots those broken strands of pearls or beads.

NIEMI OIL CO.

BP

Founded in 1926, the firm began as Pilot Oil Co. It was owned by Roger Pinnco, Sherman Lovell and Jack Turner. When Ed Niemi began working in the oil business, General Petroleum bought out Pilot Oil in 1931. In 1935 the company became Petroleum Products Inc., owned by George Sheahan and Basil Burke. In 1941 Mr. Niemi became partners with Sheahan and three years later bought him out and became a wholesale agent. On December 1, 1945 the company became J. Ed Niemi, distributor, handling Socony-Mobil products.

The Bechtolt family became involved in 1965. In 1966 son-in-law, Warren Bechtolt Sr. joined the firm which was now Ed Niemi Oil Co. Four years later Warren and Alice Bechtolt purchased the company as Ed Niemi retired.

Now the family business is being led by a third generation, with Niemi's grandsons, Cary Bechtolt, Warren Bechtolt Jr, Scott Bechtolt, and granddaughter Stacy Sundquist, all involved in the business. The firm flies the BP Oil flag after that company bought out Mobil Oil's West Coast operations in 1989. Niemi Oil has been at the same location near Astoria's Pier 3 since its start in 1926, featuring a full service home heating oil department, and retail and wholesale BP gasoline and diesel sales.

Terry Hahn's The Auto Parts Co.

...moved from 11th and Marine Drive to the corner of 7th and Bond Street right behind McDonalds. Terry Hahn, a long respected name in auto parts retailing, left the automotive products market temporarily in January of 1998.

The world of retirement was too hectic and confusing, so Terry and The Auto Parts Co. made a comeback in June when they bought out McGregors Supply Co.

Over the years since the inception of Smith Auto Parts in 1940 - later to become A&M Auto & Marine Parts - the business on the corner of 11th Street grew into the age of computerized retail selling with the Terry Hahn crew. Now, with over 10,000 part numbers, and more that 100,000 parts in the store, the ancient method of using index cards for tracking inventory and sales mutated into computer data processing.

Computer age or not, though, Terry Hahn and The Auto Parts Co. still show an old fashioned style of doing business in how they treat their customers. They still believe in personalized service from skilled parts professionals when customers need a little more. In a world of downsizing and cutbacks - higher prices and lesser quality - The Auto Parts Co. is hopelessly outdated. Quality is, as always, guaranteed. Prices are researched thoroughly so that Terry can still offer his customers the best buy possible.

For the last 37 years, Terry has dedicated his working hours to continued growth in auto parts knowledge. Standards that used to be a daily exception for consumers are still the norm.... Come on over and see the professionals at the Auto Parts Co.

The firm was founded on June 15, 1946 by brothers Ed and George Hauer, located on 10th Street behind the old Astoria Budget building. We carried Schwinn Bicycles, Harley Davidson motorcycles and lawn mowers. In 1950 the company moved to 1180 Marine Drive. In 1958 George Hauer passed away and Ed Hauer continued the business until 1968, when he consolidated the business to just locksmithing. The business was located on 13th Street, next door to the Cinder's Restaurant. When sons Ed & Stan returned from the service in June of 1972 the firm expanded and moved to 289 7th Street, again carrying bicycles, lawn mowers and doing locksmithing. In June of 1975 we moved to our present location at 1606 Marine Dr. In 1990, Stan Hauer become the sole proprietor.

Hauer's Cyclery and Locksmithing offers to the North Coast a complete line of bicycles for riders age 2 to 102. We also offer cycling apparel, parts, tires, tubes and accessories. We have a repair department second to none and are able to repair all brands of bicycles. We service what we sell.

There is usually a locksmith available at the shop during regular business hours and we are on call 24 hours for emergency situations. People don't always get locked out during normal business hours. We have the largest assortment of key blanks on the North Coast. After stamping our duplicate keys with our name for 50 years - - we figure "We're in more pockets in this area than Uncle Sam." Through the years there have been many changes made, including the name, to TLC Federal Credit Union, the move from Manhatten Beach to Tillamook, and the opening of four (4) additional branches. With branches in Astoria, Seaside, Tillamook, Lincoln City and Newport, TLC has a wide variety of products and service to offer its members. The Pig'n Pancake Story

3 Locations

PIG'N PANCAKE®

It all began in May 1961, when Bob and Marianne Poole opened the Pig 'n Pancake restaurant in Seaside with $100 and $2000 worth of borrowed equipment. There was seating for 35 and the restaurant closed each day at 2p.m. It reopened for dinner each evening as Botti's Italian Restaurant, operated by Sam Botti, the owner of the building.

Bob and Marianne eventually bought the building and expanded and remodeled a number of times. In 1987 the restaurant closed for 32 days and the building was gutted and rebuilt. In 1988 the neighboring building to the east was purchased and incorporated, resulting in the present layout featuring seating for 240 and a large gift shop. In all, the expansions and remodeling have incorporated one tavern to the west and two taverns to the east of the original premises.

In Astoria, the site of the former Lovell's Auto used car lot and garage and Woody's Drive Inn, was acquired in 1966. Located in the historic Union Town district, the site was remodeled and opened in January 1967 as the Astoria Pig'n Pancake. The Astoria restaurant has also been remodeled and expanded many time to bring it to its present seating capacity of 140. It remains a favorite of local residents and tourists alike.

In 1996 a site was acquired in downtown Cannon Beach. This location features a unique setting overlooking an urban wetland and the bustling downtown area of picturesque Cannon Beach.

Bob and Marianne's children, Linda and Wayne are now actively involved with Bob and Marianne in carrying on the Pig 'n Pancake tradition of excellence in family dining.

We take special pride in the Pig'n Pancake's many unique specialty pancakes. The recipes for Buttermilk, Swedish, Sourdough and French Batter pancakes are unique and are the original recipes that Bob and Marianne built the business on. Give them a try. We think you will agree they are delicious!

Preserving Our Past

In honor of our 36th year, the Columbia River Maritime Museum has embarked on a project to preserve and share 6,000 historic photographs from the Columbia River Packers Association, Bumble Bee Seafood, and Union Fish archives. With over 6,000 images of fishing and canning on the Lower Columbia, these collections will serve as an invaluable resource to researchers, Museum visitors, descendants of fishermen, cannery workers and boat builders, and the world at large.

New technology will allow the Museum to create a "digital photo album" which can easily be accessed from any computer in the world. To perform this project, the Museum is working to raise funds for a photonegative developer and a professional archivist to convert the negatives to computer images.

Chambers tie communitie

The Cannon Beach Chamber of Commerce

Joining the Cannon Beach Chamber of Commerce can add money to a business's bottom line, says Executive Director Tony Kesler.

Business members can rely on the chamber for sponsorship of events such as the Sandcastle Day Festival, which brings in around 20,000 competitors to eat, shop and lodge at Cannon Beach businesses, and the Stormy Weather Arts Festival in November.

Members are recommended to visitors who inquire at the Information Center, 207 N. Spruce. "Cannon Beach has 300,000 points of contact on a yearly basis," said Kesler.

The Cannon Beach chamber supports its members through Cannon Beach maps that highlight member shops and areas of interest; a business center with services of black and white and digital color copies, laminators, cutting equipment and bulk stamp use; public forums and guest speakers at general membership meetings; a monthly newsletter; brochure display in the information center and other chambers; community awareness through newspaper and magazine articles; shopping discounts and more.

In addition to membership fees, the chamber depends on a yearly $70,000 grant from the city government for promoting visitor information.

The Cannon Beach community also is important to the chamber.

"The community is the chamber in a lot of ways," said Kesler. "At this chamber we have a community hall – we provide an area that many locals use."

To help maintain the visitor center the community pitches in once a year during the Chamber's "Show Us Your Best" auction.

Astoria Warrenton Area Chamber of Commerce

Joining the Astoria-Warrenton Area Chamber of Commerce provides opportunities for business people to get together and network, says Executive Director Roger Rocka.

After-hour mixers, volunteer committees, sponsorship and organization of community events and forum luncheons sponsored keep the business community involved and active in the area's economy.

Running a chamber is "a job made up of a thousand little things," says Rocka.

Projects include working on a conference center for Astoria, which would help in the slower off-season by bringing in visitors year-round. And getting the Astoria Bypass built. "It would give us the opportunity to take historical downtown and make it a real treat," says Rocka.

In February, the chamber and local media sponsored a town hall meeting regarding a new location for Clatsop Community College. "We felt it was an issue that needed more discussion than what it was getting," said Rocka.

Other projects include producing the annual Crab and Seafood Festival, co-sponsoring the annual Riverfront Cleanup and helping with the Easter Egg Hunt. Committees address development, merchant activities, fisheries issues, community hospitality and more.

"The benefit is when you see the little things happening like the conference center, the Seafood Festival," said Rocka. "It's working to support the juvenile detention center. It's meeting people."

The Astoria-Warrenton Area Chamber of Commerce promotes its business and community ideas and activities with the help of business memberships and monies raised from the Crab and Seafood Festival. Its two welcome centers, one in Warrenton, 143 U.S. Highway 101, and one in Astoria, 111 W. First St., receive some room tax funds from the City of Astoria and the City of Warrenton. The Astoria center is a state-designated welcome center and receives $12,000 a year.

By JILL FOREMAN
Of The Daily Astorian

More than a hundred years ago in Astoria, in 1873, three institutions began that have evolved with the changing times and still stand today.

One was born to inform the folk – The Daily Astorian. The second was St. Mary's Catholic Church. The third was ... the chamber of commerce.

Each have survived countless changes through the years. Changing social views, economies and technology to name a few.

How can a chamber of commerce claim such history?

Perhaps Roger Rocka, executive director of the Astoria-Warrenton Area Chamber of Commerce summed it up best when he said, "The intent of a chamber is to work to make a living in a community. Economics is at the root of things."

Whoever created the concept of a watchkeeper and go-between for other businesses and their interests had a grand idea, as history proves. The Cannon Beach Chamber of Commerce is 52 years old, and the Seaside Chamber of Commerce is 62.

A chamber is a business that promotes its business members and enhances the economic base of the community, says Nancy McCune, interim executive director of the Seaside chamber.

"We act as a liaison between busi-

SEASIDE (Special) — The Clatsop County Ministerial Association has protested the scheduling of the Lewis and Clark festival parade here Sunday at 11 a.m. – the "traditional Protestant hour of worship." nesses, tourists and the community," she said.

Local businesses pay an annual membership fee to join their chamber. In exchange, each chamber offers myriad benefits to its members, including exposure in newsletters and visitor's guides and during community events, networking through planned luncheons and forums with other businesses, and in many cases, exclusive recommendations to visitors. In addition, most boards for chambers of commerce are made up of local business leaders.

"Business join that believe in the business community and want to add back to the community," said Tony Kesler, executive director of the Cannon Beach Chamber of Commerce. "We want them to join because it enhances the value of business and enhances the community."

Businesses that don't join have their reasons, be they economical, political or lack of desire. "Some just aren't joiners," said Kesler. "Any good community is a good mix of individuals."

Many businesses have joined a chamber, however. Cannon Beach expects to have between 350 and 375 business memberships by the end of the year. Seaside has 435 members and the Astoria-Warrenton chamber 400.

o'clock Sunday. We respectfully request that in the future all organizations throughout the county respect this traditional Protestant hour of worship." Gordon Shaw, chamber president, explained that a low tide at noon Sunday had been the deciding factor in scheduling the parade, since it is to be followed by a riding exhibition by visiting sheriffs' posses on the beach.

Compiled by Bonnie Susan Oathes

A funny thing happened on the way to the chamber ...

The following are among the anecdotes that staff and volunteers at the various area chambers of commerce have heard over the years.

Seaside Chamber of Commerce

• What does the ocean look like right now?

• What is the weather going to be like in October?

• How old is a deer when it becomes an elk?

• Recently a woman called the chamber and asked if there was anyone in town that could wash her dishes.

Astoria-Warrenton Area Chamber of Commerce

• People mistake the Columbia River for the ocean.

• Or they'll ask where the river is.

• Recently a puzzled visitor reported to the chamber that Astoria really should do something about the Astoria Column. He had just paid a visit to the old Pacific Power smokestack on Youngs Bay.

Cannon Beach Chamber of Commerce

• People call and ask if the rock is still there.

• A visitor booked a hotel room and then complained to the chamber that he wanted his money back because when he opened the windows, a big rock was blocking the ocean view.

Seaside Chamber of Commerce

When joining the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, members can expect the chamber to "inform them, educate them and promote them during events," says interim Executive Director Nancy McCune.

McCune says the summer events the chamber sponsors help promote the city.

"The impact is to bring people to the beach, which is our greatest attraction." The Visitor's Center, 7 N. Roosevelt Drive, had 92,340 drop-ins in 1997.

Around 50,000 visitors fill the streets and Seaside's businesses during the Seaside Beach Volleyball Tournament. During the Hood to Coast relay, hotels and inns are booked in preparation for 60,000 runners and supporters.

But, McCune says, the chamber continues to focus on bringing in visitors for off-season events, which are equally important "to fill the lodging, eat in restaurants and shop in stores." Two winter events are a barbershop quartet competition and a chocolate and coffee festival.

The chamber represents its members at different levels of government and brings back the information, says McCune. In addition to informing its members, the chamber seeks to "work on developing new businesses, ensuring a healthy, attractive and prosperous environment for the community," says McCune.

The new chamber board, which began Oct. 1, has the goal of enhancing its relationship with the community and business members as well as providing monthly forums, McCune said.

Members of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce already have the benefit of listings in the Seaside Visitor Guide and Seaside Chamber Membership Directory, business showcases at chamber-sponsored events, brochures display in the State Welcome Center, and exclusive referrals to visitors and area residents.

For personal and professional development, the Seaside chamber offers a "Friday Coffee," a weekly morning meeting with guest speakers, monthly forum luncheons and tourism programs such as "Hospitality Training."

Serves up

Dan Foss punches the ball over the net while Christin Pass backs him up during the Seaside Beach Volleyball Tournament in August. The Seaside Chamber of Commerce is kept busy organizing the three-day event, which drew an estimated 40,000 people to Seaside.

Reta Leithner

Oregon Coast Realty

738-6321

Born in Astoria and reared in Seaside/graduate of Seaside High. I attended college for 2 years in Oregon. I lived on the East Coast and in California prior to returning to Seaside.

I will have been in real estate for 24 years this January and have loved it so very much. There is absolutely nothing as fulfilling as helping someone to realize their dreams, whether it is to convert an existing holding into cash to retire with, or to start a prideful and responsible future. That is my "kick" in life. I can never duplicate the excitement I feel each and every time I show someone how the owning of real estate can benefit their financial picture. When they finally realize the full potential to their usable incomes, a light seems to click on behind their eyes and they begin the search with a wide smile.

I am a member of Clatsop Association of REALTORS, & a graduate of REALTORS' Institute, as well as a member of the local MLS. I am proud to be a Sales Associate of Broker, Dons Strumme at OREGON COAST REALTY. Come see me to help with your real estate needs. I know what I am doing!

VIDEO HORIZONS

49 7th St., Astoria
325-7310
(Across from McDonalds)

Video Horizons entered it's 13th year in 1998. After opening in November of 1985 with just over 600 movies, Video Horizons now boasts over 9,000 movies.

A recent facelift in 1994 allows for more new releases, greater ease in selection, and a cleaner, brighter and more cheerful atmosphere.

However, even with all of the improvements, what has remained steady from the inception is the film knowledge of the staff, the low cost rental prices including multi-day rental packages, the library of film rarities, classics, "midnight" movies, and a drive-up drop off window. All of this is what has set this store apart from all of the others.

An "Audio Room", where the largest selection of used tapes, C.D.'s and record albums in Clatsop County are sold is located in the back of the video store.

If you have not been in for a while, come in and check us out!

Rita Mae's Great Little Wine Haus & Deli Pub

Seaside Outlet Mall
1111 N. Roosevelt
738-0201

This business was launched in 1986 by Burt Simpson and located at Heritage Square in downtown Seaside. Fran Chisholm and Bob Brush took over in 1988. June 17, 1991 Rita Mae and Ted Kurrus changed the name to Rita Mae's Great Little Wine Haus & Deli Pub.

The configuration has changed dramatically from a small wine shop with box, jug and inexpensive wines. Today they have expanded to the largest selection of domestic and imported wines on the coast ...perhaps among the top dozen in Oregon. Rita Mae's also serves homemade deli food and carries wine accessories, glassware, plus a humidor full of imported cigars. Gift baskets for special occasions are shipped most anywhere in the U.S.A.

This is a good place to have a glass of wine or cup of coffee or choose from one of our 308 beers and ales - or even a good home cooked meal for under $6.00 - in a relaxing fun atmosphere with no pressure, hassle or bother.

It's time to clear the air

We as consumers have become a petrochemical society. From petrochemicals come energy, clothing, household goods, cosmetics, perfumes and countless other products.

This standard of economics is leading our planet toward irreversible damage.

It is a corporation's responsibility to adopt an alternative model of sustainability. Solution: Plants inhale what we exhale. They are nature's air purifier, and the link to every source of life on Earth. It is the plant's miraculous chemistry that enables us to be self-sustaining and self-balancing.

Clients expect maximum performance from the beauty products they buy, without sacrificing the environment to get it. We meet that demand in every product we make.

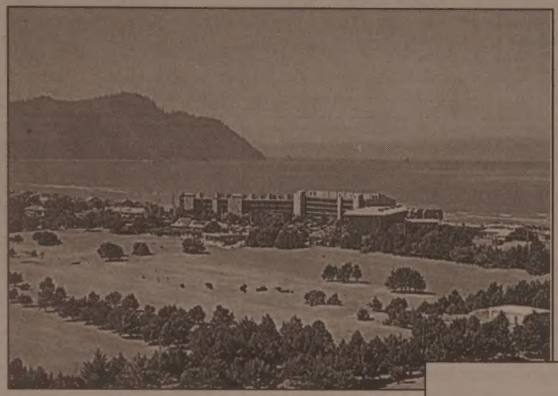
Gearhart GOLF LINKS

established 1892



Although records indicate that the golf course at Gearhart was established in 1892, tradition has it that several Scotsmen laid out four holes on the windswept dunes in the 1880's. Gearhart is reputed to be the oldest course on the West Coast.

Originally a 9-hole course, it was extended to 18 in 1913. Today the course is 6,148 yards, par 72 and stretches for about a mile from north to south, the width equaling about three fairways. The elevation is fairly constant. The up and down roll of the sand dunes over which the course is built makes a flat lie a rarity. Its sand base makes for excellent drainage, and the encircling condo-motel units provide considerable shelter form the coastal winds. The course is generally wide open, easy to walk, and a pleasure to play.

In the early days, Gearhart was the Golf Capital of the Pacific Northwest. At the time, the fairways were mowed by sheep. Players and spectators traveled by boat and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle train to participate in tournament extravaganzas. The SP&S was known as the "Daddy Train" so called because it brought husbands to the coast on weekends to be with their families.

The Oregon Coast Golf Tournament was started at Gearhart in 1910 and continued there until 1951 at which time it was transferred to the Astoria Golf & Country Club.

In reviewing the history of the Gearhart course we find in the American Annual Golf Guide of 1929 the charge was 75¢ per day. Sunday play was permitted and caddies were available.

The founders Corporation was the original owner of the course. It was sold to Barney Lucas in 1939. It changed hands several times before 1969, when it purchased from Roy and June Madden by the present owners, Orson A. and Olive E. Kelly.

Mark Kelly stands in ruins

The Sandtrap Restaurant & Lounge

Destroyed by fire in August 1998. Offices and registration for Gearhart Condominiums were also destroyed in the fire. Plans to rebuild are imminent. Watch for progress.
